Havendo o vapor Superior, Capitão Salmon, sido o ultimo navio que neste cartorio despachou para o Rio de Janeiro em 4 de Fevereiro ultimo e por conseguinte não podendo a seu bordo haver sido George Phillips alias George Jackson, assim que recebi o Officio de V.S. de 7 do corrente, fiz indagar em Church Row, Aldgate por Mr. Phillips e descubri não ser em nome deste mas sim no de certo Foreman que o negocio no trafico gira, assim buscando do proprietario da residencia, por hum amigo deste, (a quem confiei a carta de 2 do corrente que incluio rolho) haver a exacta franca exposição que do outro lado transmitto, só me restará pedir ao exposto Mr. Phillips preste perante hum Magistrado Britanico o juramento que offerece e deve passar certidão, se V.S. não obstante o exposto na dita exposição, assim o desejar.

Deos Guarde a V.S. Consulado Geral do Brazil.

Mr. Deputy Colebatch of the Minories, proprie-tor of the House in Church Row, Aldgate, states that Mr. Phillips is his Tenant & has been so for some time - that he is a Dealer in Old Clothes & that he has reason to know he is very poor - that he knows nothing particular against his character, but is of opinion that it is not worth His Excy's while to pay any attention to the subject of his letter - that it is most likely the result of a Jews quarrel & that there may be more spite than truth in it -
