The undersigned, Chargé des affaires of The United States of America, has the honour to acknowledge the receipt this moment, of The Marquis of Inhambupe's note of this date, relating to the departure of the American Squadron now in this port, destined for the Pacific Ocean. A translation of the same will be transmitted to Commodore Jones, with all the despatch which his distance from the shore, and the difficulty of communicating with him, will permit.

In the mean time, The undersigned, thinks it incumbent on him to state, that The Government of The United States, denies the right of a belligerent, to lay an embargo upon Publick Ships of War, bearing the flag of a neutral and friendly nation, and at the same time expres-ses his deepest regret, that the Government of His Imperial Ma-jesty, did not consider it expedient to attain the object it had in view, by pursueing the mode usually adopted amongst Maritime Powers.

The Undersigned repeats to His Excellency, the assurance of his respect and consideration.
