The Undersigned Agent and Consul General for the Hanse Towns, has received Instructions from the Venerable Senate of Hamburgh in reply to the Communication received from the Baron Itabayana, Ambassador from His Majesty the Emperor of the Brazils, to assure His Excellency of the most friendly and cordial Sentiments on the part of the Senate towards the Brazilian Government, and of the decided disapprobation felt by the Senate of any publication reflecting on the said Government, and further to state that directions in this sense have been conveyed on the occasion in question to the competent Authorities.

It is to be observed that the Hamburgher Zuschauer is not a political Gazette, and not submitted to Censorship; – it is an insignificant Pamphlet of little consequence at Hamburgh, and unknown beyond it. Indeed the very inferior consideration in which the Pamphlet is held gives rather a proof against the insinuation, and that the Party bringing the Pamphlet under Your Excellency's Consideration must have acted under a wrong impression as to the effect of such publication, which had not till His Excellency's Note reached Hamburgh been heard of or seen by the Members of Government.

To His Excellency
The Baron de Itabayana

The Undersigned begs to renew to His Excellency the Assurances of His highest Esteem and Consideration.
