601.4(22)

The message of confidence in my administration expressed by your excellency and by the brasilian people through you is a source of great satisfaction to me it is my hope and purpose to continue undiminished the close associations between the government and the people of the United States and the government and people of Brazil which my illustrious predecessor working with your excellency did so much to strengthen the traditional ties between our two countries should grow ever closer as the mutuality of our aims and interests has stood the test of peace and war.
